THE CONSEQUENCES OF NEGLECTING A SLIGHT WOUND, -About four weeks ago Mr. Errisman was engaged in chopping wood out in one of the nearest timber canyons, when his ax glanced and cut one of his legs just above the knee-cap. Thinking it a trifling accident, he tied a handkerchief around the wound and contimed at work. He suffered slight pain the ensuing night, and again went to his work in the morning; but as the day advanced the wound grew more painful. until he threw down his ax and started for his cabin. He had not proceeded far when he gave out entirely and could not take another step. He was carried to his bed and a surgeon was sent for, who pronounced the wound very danger-He was then brought to the city, that he might receive better care and have more frequent surgical attendance. He now lies in a precarious condition, his sufferings being indescribable. Being an Odd Fellow the unfortunate man, though among strangers, has every care and attention that can be bestowed. He is from Springfield, Ill., near which city his parents reside.

CLAIM TO BE UNJUSTLY CENSURED .-Some of the executive officers of the Justice's Court complain to us that certaing mining superintendents unjustly censure them for serving attachments on the wages of debtor miners. Such a course is indeed unreasonable, as the officer has no alternative but to obey the commands of the Court. We have commands of the Court. We have known, however, of officers trying to fill the double role of attorney and executive—springing business for business; and when this is done their justification can scarcely be full and complete. The debtor, however, has no right to presume such collusion, and even if proved it is not criminal. The law gives the debtor not criminal. The law gives the debtor no excuse for trying to evade the pay-ment of honest debts, and the best way for men to avoid embarrassment and ex-tra cost in regard to them is to never make an engagement they are not able JUSTICE'S COURT.-Emanuel, the Spaniard of whose unprovoked attack on one of his countrymen we made mention yesterday, appeared and settled the financial part of the responsibility incurred -$43, five and costs inclusive. He can soon get even on the loss by reformation. In the case of Enright vs. Ford, the defendant, Ford, like the Father of his Country, "couldn't tell a lie," and so he concluded, when on the witness-stand, not to say anything. Was committed for contempt; had spent 72 hours in jail deliberating over his stubborness, which seems to have made him still more obstinate, as yesterday, when again brought on to the stand, he could not be persnaded to utter a syllable. Re-commit-ted for 24 hours. The law is inexhaustible in such cases; time alone can tell how enduring Mr. Ford is.

OUR NEW UNDER SHERIPF.-We yesterday mentioned the appointment of B. H. Hereford, by Sheriff Travis, as one of his Deputies. This was an error, Mr. Hereford being duly commissioned by Mr. Travis as Under Sheriff. Few men on the Pacific coast are more generally ou the Pacific coast are more generally or more favorably known than Mr. Hereford, he having held positions of trust and honor in various parts of California, as well as of this State. The latest public positions filled by him before becoming a resident of this section was County Clerkships, having been County Clerkships, having been County Clerkships, having been Counties. Mr. Travis has shown excellent judgment in making this appointment. making this appointment.

FARMING IMPROVEMENTS.—The farmers in Dry Valley, in the vicinity of Panaca and Bullionville, we understand, have greatly extended their improvements preparatory to the coming season's operations, and many new farms have been located. All the choicest lands in the valley have been taken up under the pre-emption and homestead laws. With trains making regular trips over the narrow-gauge, we may expect to receive from our farmer friends down that way next summer an abundance of vegetables coming to us each morning in dewy

AN HOUR WITH THE SICK.

Visit to the County Hospital-Its Patients - Accommodations, Condition and Management.

We yesterday afternoon spent an hour passing through the wards of the county hospital to take notes of its condition and management.

There are now eleven patients in the institution, a less number than has before been on the records for the last six months. Though the particulars of some of these cases were given to the public at the time of admission, a general recapitulation may not be uninteresting :

John Bagley, native of Ireland, aged 45; admitted Nov. 26; fractured leg; will soon be discharged.

Michael Hunt, native of Ireland, aged 44; admitted Dec. 7; valvular disease of the heart. Incurable, but may survive for years. (Mr. Hunt first came to California in 1846, being a member of Col. Stevenson's regiment of United States Infantry. With that calm resignation to fate which usually characterizes the old pioneer in calamitous hours, he bears up under his misfortune with philosophical fortitude, ever appearing cheerful to his visiting friends.)

J. McDonald, native of Ireland, aged 30; admitted Dec. 9; gunshot wound in the foot. Will soon be discharged.

Geo. McDonald, native of Scotland, aged 19; admitted Dec. 5; typhoid fever. Recovering rapidly.

Owen Ferguson, native of Ireland. aged 45; admitted Sept. 20; compound fracture of the thigh bone, broken arm, broken nose, and other severe injuries, caused by an ore car falling upon him. Conval sing rapidly.

Dennis Downey, native of Ireland, aged 42; admitted Nov. 6; pneumonia, followed by defective circulation and spontaneous gangrene, making the amputation of both 1 gs below the knees necessary. Recovering rapidly.

Michael Moran, native of Ireland, aged 29; admitted Dec. 26; rheumatism Doing well.

Cuarles Frendo, aged 55; native of Malta; admitted Dec. 26; ulcerated leg of long standing. Incurable, but doing Charles S. Blakeslee, native of the United States, aged 42; compound fracture of the thigh bone. Doing well.

Myles Knapp, native of the United States, aged 38; admitted Jan. 26; koife wounds on the neck, breast, abdomen and wrists. Is getting along finely, with fair prospects of being restored without permanent physical disability. Thomas Wilson, native of Ireland; aged 42; admitted Jan. 29; rheumatism.

Local in character. The Hospital comprises three wards, two containing four beds each, and the other six. The wards are kept scrupu-lously clean; the beds are amply supplied with mattresses, blankets and linens, which are regularly washed; and there are stoves of sufficient capacity in every department. But owing to the construction of the building, and the number cared for, ventiliation is un-avoidably deficient, the increase of population far exceeding the general expecta-tion when the building was planned. The Commissioners, however, at their last meeting, resolved to put up another addition, and to renovate the establishment, so as to make the institution comfortably accommodate twenty five patients. The contract to make these improvements will be concluded at an early day.

The culinary department is as unexceptionable us that of any hospital on the coast. An experienced cook is em-ployed, and the larder is supplied with every wholesome delicacy and the best meats and vegetables are selected from the

The orders of the County Physician The orders of the County Physician for drugs and medicines are always for large quantities, and they are filled at the lowest wholesale rates by San Francisco houses. Mr. E. S. Williams, the Steward, a druggist by profession, and of twenty years' experience, does all the compounding, even making many of the county no inconsiderable sum. We the county no inconsiderable sum. We think we do Mr. Williams but simple justice in saying it would be a public ca-mity for his place to be vacated.

Regarding the qualifications of Dr.

Deal, as medical and surgical supervisor of the institution, it is unnecessary to say a word; few physicians of his age have a more enviable record. The very satisfactory condition of the patients, given above, is a fair index of his success and management from the beginning of his term as County Physician. For the sake of suffering humanity we hope he may long hold the position.

Patients are admitted, under the law, on the order of D. F. Fulks, Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, Mr. Fulks performs the delicate duties imposed upon bim with careful circum-spection, which he must do to prevent the public from being imposed on by ad-mitting to the benefit of the fund those who are able to take care of thamselves. Almost daily such cases present themselves - imposers whose at ments are fancied, or too trifling to be taken cogni-

the city, and the further improvements projected must be approved of by every Christian and humanitarian in our

BALL AT BULLIONVILLE .- There will be a grand ball given at Bullionville, in Bony Williams' new building, on next Friday evening, the 31st inst. If it does not prove a great success the cause of failure will not be in the preparatory arrangements, as neither time nor expense is spared in getting ready for the event.

DELAYED BY SNOW STORMS. - No mail from Hamilton up to the time of going to press. The telegraph informs us that heavy snow storms prevailed at the other end of the route day before yesterday, which explains the delay.

Not PREMEDITATED.—There is no doubt that Myles Knapp was laboring under temporary insanity when he attempted to take his life.

The purest and freshest drugs and medicines are to be had at Burrage's Drug Store, Main street, directly oppotate his life.

INDIAN GOODS EN ROUTE .- The Piutes are auxiously awaiting the arrival of ten thousand pounds of annuity goods, said to be somewhere between here and the terminus of the Utah Southern. Col. Jennings, the Acting Agent, will begin the distribution at Bullionville, and continue it wherever he can find Indians to receive the goods. This is all wrong; the law should require every savage to be registered, and they should receive their goods at a common rendezvous as their names appearon the lists, just shares be ing reserved for the absentees. That's what we know about the Indian business from an outside view.

AN INDUCEMENT FOR DETECTIVES .-Sheriff Travis authorizes us to say that he will pay one hundred dollars to whoever will arrest any one or more of the petty thieves infesting the city-payment to be made on conviction. The offer holds good for each and every thief of this class arrested. The opinion is general that there are at least one hundred in Pioche who follow small pilfering as a profession. This is certainly a good inducement for all to turn detectives. If the lead is struck right a few hundred dollars can soon be realized. All acquainted with Mr. Travis know that he will do as he agrees in this matter.

paper headed with "repulsed with loss" the name of S. P. Walker appears as in the first name; S. P. Walker is a quiet, law-abiding citizen, and it gives us pleasure to make the correction. The error was in a single mitial. We take no pleasure in publishing names in police reports, but the faithful local chronicler cannot avoid it; and impartial justice de-mands that there should be no distinction made as to persons.

More Hoodlumism .- About 11 o'clock night helpre lest there was a lively little row it a Spanish house of ill fame on the upper end of Main street, west side. We were informed that it was no unusual | Dupont's Blasting Powder. occurrence at that place, "her man" being in the habit of choking and beating the occupant once or twice a week. The curses of the man and shricks of the woman were loud enough to have awakened the seven sleepers, but no arrests

THE NARROW-GAUGE .- Work on the narrow-gauge railroad is drawing to a close. The only grading remaining to be done is on that part of the road just back of the mills at Bullionville. If the road is not completed and in running order by the 5th of next month, lack of iron and ties will be the cause. The passenger car is receiving the finishing strokes. It is neat in design, and will be as comfortable as elegant.

LARGE INVOICES OF FLOUR .- Ph. Felsenthal has just received from Toano 45,500 pounds of flour of the Buckeye brand. The freighting was done with oxen, the trip being made from the rail-road in forty-three days. Jacobs & Sultan also received a heavy supply of flour by the same train. We can certainly stand off the epizootic, so far as "the staff of life" is concerned.

GAME ON THE FOOTHILLS .- Few are aware that the sportsmen can find employment for his fowling-piece near Pioche, the near surroundings being so sterile and arid; but along the foot-hills between hers and Bullionville there are innumerable jack-rabbits and sage hens, hunters frequently coming in well supplied with both.

DECLINE IN STOCES .- A marked decline in some of our Pioche mining stocks is reported in our dispatch of quotations. This is well understood here to be the result of conflicting interests among better or worse.

sons in Eureka on the way to this place who are blockaded by the expizootic— can neither return nor come on. Among them is the family of one of our citizens.
